Build Hand Strength and Coordination...

...by exercising each finger separately with the Via Gripmaster Hand Exerciser. Because each finger in your hand is powered by a completely separate system of muscles and tendons, strength, endurance and coordination start with the hand itself, and your fingers are the key. So the best way to build hand strength is to exercise each finger individually.

The vendor says that the Gripmaster awakens the hand almost immediately. It cost $12.95 at Youcan Toocan. Visit www.youcantooacan.com or call 1-800-663-9396.

Stay in Shape Without Strain- ing or Cramping Your Hands

When you use the Palm Bell Hand Weights, you can get all the benefits of traditional weight training without using your hands to hold metal dumbbells. Velcro safety straps keep the weights in your hands, while an inflatable air chamber inside the weights let you adjust the fit for better hand comfort. The weights offer an easy-to-grip alternative for people with arthritis or anyone who has trouble gripping the cable handles. Each set costs $24.95 and includes two weights and an air pump. They are available from Simple Comforts by visiting www.simplecomforts.com or calling 1-800-361-1440. No item number listed. NOTE: The vendor strongly recommends consulting a physician before beginning this or any other exercise program.

The three little bears had to taste their porridge to find out if it was too hot or cold. But with the Water Glow LED Light Shower Head, you never have to touch the water in your shower to find out if it is too hot or too cold. If the light on the shower head is green, the water is too cold. Red means it is too hot, and flashing red means scalding. When the blue light flashes, it is safe to get in. The vendor says it is easy to install. Simply twist off your existing showerhead and replace it with the Water Glow.
