Camouflage for Dangerous Doorways Improves Home Safety for Alzheimer's Patients

Closets storing potentially dangerous items or doors leading to stairways are very dangerous for those in the middle and late stages of Alzheimer's. One way of denying access is to make the door "disappear". A common ploy in the design of Alzheimer's care facilities is to camouflage unsafe doorways and closets and now you can do this too, in your home, with Photographic Mural of Book Shelves.

Applying the photographic mural to a door makes it look like a set of shelves! The full color photograph comes in two pieces, 3'2" x 8'8", and includes one roll of double-faced tape. Some trimming may be required. It costs $38.95 at The Alzheimer's Store. Check it out at www.Alzstore.com or by calling 1-800-752-3238. Item # 0047-B.

Pill Taking Just Became Easy...

...with the Medi-Straw. The vendor says the unique fluid action of the Medi-Straw suspends the pill in liquid as it enters the mouth, reducing or eliminating gagging and choking. The design allows your head to remain level while the straw holds the pill on a "shelf" in preparation for swallowing. A flow of liquid then carries the pill into your mouth and automatically starts the sucking action that triggers the swallowing reflex, avoiding the gag response. In addition, since the pill is surrounded by liquid, the aftertaste is reduced or eliminated. The vendor says it has been tested in medical environments and is approved for adults and children. It is available at Bruce Medical for $9.95, and includes two straws per package. Find out more at www.brucemedical.com or call 1-800-225-8446. Item BMS5505.
